A Tradition of Excellence

Inspiring Craft Pieces from Meath,
Ireland's Heritage Capital

A finely crafted work of beauty

The Tara brooch and the Book of Kells are only two of the best-known examples of the long tradition of crafts excellence in Meath. Today's craftspeople work with a variety of materials - including precious metals, stone, wood and fabrics and within a more earthly price bracket. The philosophy is still the same - to create something of unique and lasting beauty, to be treasured and passed on from generation to generation. Take the opportunity to view the fine craftsmanship in Meath by browsing this brochure.
